ASKS SUM OF $307
IN DAMAGE SUIT*Names Ralph R. Charles of Willow Grove In Civil Court Case*AN AUTO COLLISION
Two Bristolians Are Members of The Jury Hearing The CaseDOYLESTOWN, Jan. 26 — Damages amounting to $307.04 are sought by Domenic Silvestri, county seat tailor. He names Ralph R.
Charles, of Willow Grove.The case opened in civil court here, before Judge Calvin S. Boyer.The plaintiff, who was operating his car on Route 611, near County Line and Davis Grove roads, May 10, testified that the defendant approached the Easton highway from the Davis Grove road."I was going about 40 or 45 miles an hour. I saw the defendant's car about 50 or 60 feet away from me.
He stopped and I then started to cross. I turned my car to the left and we collided," said the local East State street business man.In the plaintiff's car were his wife, his daughter, Sylvia, Joseph Arcade and John Arcade, all of whom were enroute to Philadelphia to attend a wedding.Joseph Arcade, Reading railroad worker, who was seated in front with the plaintiff, testified he noticed the plaintiff applying the brakes. He corroborated the plain-tiff's testimony concerning the actions of the defendant who was coming out of a side-road on to a through-highway.Mr. Silvestri, who is 42, testified he has been driving a car since 1938. He testified that the trio of other occupants did not see the accident.The jury contains Elsie Carroll, Lacey Park; Amelia M. Stever, Springtown; Roccoa Elwell, Bristol; Mamie Esser, Telford; Elmer C. McNe, Morrisville; Melvin S.
Ortt, Trumbauersville; Sallie Johnson, Ottsville, R. D. 1; Wilbur P.
Stover, Ivyland; Gertrude P. Kirk, Andalusia; Isaac T. Pursell, Upper Black Eddy; Edith N. Bean, Sel-lersville, and Cornelius Bustran, Bristol.Counsel for the defendant, who has not presented his side of the case, informed the Court there is also a counter-claim involved, but did not indicate how much the amount of damages asked for are.
Witnesses this morning include Trooper Alexander Balnis, of the Doylestown sub-station of the Penna. State Police, who investigated the crash, the defendant and his wife.The defendant was coming out of Davis Grove road and making a left hand turn into Route 611, toward Doylestown, when he was struck Mrs. Lucrécia C. Charles, who was with her husband in the car, testified they had completed some of the turn from the side road into the highway when they were struck.
The case was still on at 11:30 this morning.Announce Examination,

Bath street, Bristol. An application will be sent to him by return mail.This competitive examination is to fill the Senatorial appointment to the naval academy by Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania.Couple Wed Here Are En Route To MissouriA couple wed here yesterday enroute to Kansas City, Mo., to spend their honeymoon. The ceremony took place at three o'clock in St. Ann's R. C. Church, when the Rev. Peter Pinci united Miss Car-mella Amelia Moffo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moffo, 203 Wood street, and Mr. Frank Boc-canfuso, Princeton, N. J., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Boc-canfuso.Organist for the occasion was Miss Rita Clotti, Jefferson avenue.
Making her way to the altar on the arm of her father, the bride was gowned in white satin, the costume being cut on princess lines, with V-neck-line set off with beaded design. Tapered sleeves were long, and the full skirt swept to a long train. Her scalloped veil was attached to a tulle of white sequins; white satin slippers were worn, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies in the center of which reposed lavender orchids.The six members of the bridal party were guests at a dinner at Red Lion Inn, Andalusia, following the ceremony; and an evening reception took place in the station of Bristol Fire Co., No. 1.As a travelling costume, Mrs.
Boccanfuso wore a black suit, gray coat, black slippers and white gloves, and the orchids from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will make their home at Princeton. The bridegroom, who served with the U. S. Army in the European theatre of operations during World War II, presented his attendants with marcasite tie pins. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a bracelet, and to the bridesmaids, pearl necklaces.HERE AND THERE IN and a wren that went to school were among bird stories of the Winter related at a meeting of the Neshaminy Valley Nature Club at the home of Edwin and Helen Traub, Churchville.The flight of a pair of bald eagles, one of them definitely an adult with white head and tail, in the Delaware River Valley, below New Hope, was reported by Adolph Herzog, of this place, the club president.He said that the presence of at least a pair of the eagles had been confirmed by other amateur ornithologists. Mr. Herzog also reported having observed hearing gulls and several species of hawks in that area on January 10.Another member, Miss Eleanor Luff, of Richboro, who teaches at the Penn Valley School, told of a Carolina wren being in the school room, and providing a live subject for an indoor bird talk before it was released out a window.Joseph Wildonger, 32-year-old day. The Rev. Albert Baird officiated.

Upon their return from the Pocono Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Mignoni will reside in an apartment on Mill street.ARMY "EFFICIENCY"With all the argument raging over whether President Truman has been wise in trusting the key authority of his administration to military figures, here's one to try on your friends. Who said the following?"All the 'boondoggling' which was done—if there was any—in connection with relief appropriations could be completely blotted out by only three examples of the way in which the Army and Navy handle appropriations which we give them without any strings attached. They know how to waste money better than any other organization I have ever had anything to do with. They do an excellent job on the waste side.""Unless this body (the U. S. Senate) and the House of Representatives exercise their prerogatives in connection with the purse strings of the Government, much of the money appropriated will be thrown away for no good purpose whatever."Who said it? Why, none other than the man who recently has been so insistent on putting career soldiers in charge of all administrative affairs in the government—the man who wants one professional soldier, Secretary Marshall, to handle $1,000,000,000 under the Marshall Plan, and a host of others elsewhere in the government to disburse most of the rest of the proposed $40,000,000,000 Federal budget.President Truman?
Of course, when he made the above remarks, he wasn't President, and no one, probably not even himself, ever expected him to be. He was plain Senator Truman—quite on the other side of the fence. He was speaking in his capacity as chairman of the Senate's Special Committee Investigating the National Defense Program.The date of the above statement by President then Senator—Truman was June 29, 1943.The views he expressed were not the result of any sudden burst of bad temper on his part, but on the contrary the fruits of long observation of the traditional brass-hat willfulness in wasting money and refusal to look realistically ahead.Nearly two years earlier, on August 14, 1941, Senator Truman had spoken as follows to his colleagues in the Senate:"I am sorry to say that I do not think the Army has done a good job on camp construction. . . . There has been a lack of forethought and planning and a large amount of inefficiency.". . . I had always assumed that the War Department had paid some attention to the bitter lessons with respect to camp construction which we learned during the last war . . ."I was utterly astounded to find that although a postwar study had been made of camp construction problems encountered in the (first) World War, all the copies thereof had been lost by the War Department.""If our plans for military campaigns are no more extensive and no better than those for construction, we are indeed in a deplorable situation."Senator, now President, Truman didn't say the half of it. Pearl Harbor was less than four months off when he spoke—and never was a nation's high military command less prepared for eventualities than ours were on that occasion.Yet this same Missourian has changed his tune today, and has asked for appropriations which would have been fantastic in those days, with war only weeks away—to be spent by precisely those he then criticised for lack of efficiency and foresight; by coincidence or otherwise, largely by those military leaders most closely identified with the Pearl Harbor Scandal!Congress and the President alike would do well to turn back the pages, and be governed by the very excellent advice Senator Truman gave on that earlier occasion.RAINBOW GIRLS ELECT township husband and a Newtown woman are asking freedom from their mates. The two divorce libels and an appeal from a Falsington Justice of the Peace have been filed in the Court of Common Pleas here.Following a hearing on November 26, 1947, when Justice of the Peace John Melvin, of Falsington, gave judgment for possession of the premises in favor of the plaintiff, Stephen Vargo, an appeal has been filed by the defendant, Richard Bye.The plaintiff, who owns the premises in Wrightstown township, on May 28, 1946, rented them to the defendant on a monthly rental basis of $50. He notified the defendant October 29, 1947, that he wished to repossess them.Repeated notices were served and on November 7, 1947, the defendant, Bye, was given a formal summons.

Witnesses for the plaintiff were Stephen Vargo, Margaret Vargo, and Stephen Vargo, Jr. Richard Bye, the defendant, was the lone witness for the tenant.Eugene Nemeth, 37, Falls township, has begun an action in divorce against his wife, Ida Nemeth, 37, E.
Maple avenue, Morrisville. They were married Nov. 3, 1929, in Trenton, N. J. In May, 1941, the libellant and respondent became residents of Morrisville.The libellant was discharged from the Army in the fall of 1945 and the separation took place August 28, 1947.Ann E. Hughes, White Hall Hotel, Newtown, has named her husband, Garnet R. Hughes, whose business address is 1044 Walnut street, Phila., the respondent in a libel in divorce.
They were married August 15, 1940, in Newtown, by Rev. Daniel Daly, rector of St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Newtown.The respondent, who joined the Naval Reserve Corps in 1924, was discharged in 1945, and the libellant separated in 1945.TWO AUTOMOBILE FIRESBristol firemen were called out day night at the testimonial All Sports Banquet in the Doylestown High school.Two-hundred persons, including Alumni members—who sponsored the affair—103 students of various athletic teams, coaches, school board members and friends attended the very fine affair.Coach Williamson said that in his opinion the banquet was unique, with football, baseball, girls' hockey and archery, rifle, basketball, track, cheerleaders, the band, tennis—senior and junior teams being honored."Doylestown High Alumni deserves congratulations," Coach Wil-lamson declared. "I am a firm believer in competition in everything, but especially in sports, and I can speak with some authority when I say that just as long as our country has competitive sports competition, we will get along, both in peace and at war. Building restrictions on recreational facilities are contributside as he continued to preach the Word of God each week, died yesterday at Bridgeport, Conn. He was pastor of First Presbyterian Church, at Bridgeport.Announcing last September 7th that he was suffering from an inoperable cancer, but that he would continue as minister as long as he was able, Dr. Alison had stated at that time: "My house is in order. I have had a long and blessed ministry. It is, of course, always a hardship to say farewell to such loved ones as I had, but it is better farther on, I have preached that glad hope, and I know my Saviour will not fail me."And so at services which followed each week Dr. Alison usually had guest clergymen in the pulpit with him in case of need.Son of the late Rev. Alexander Alison, Sr., pastor of Bristol Presby-

CO. SEAT TAILOR ASKS SUM OF $307 IN DAMAGE SUIT

Names Ralph R. Charles of Willow Grove in Civil Court Case

AN AUTO COLLISION Two Bristolians Are Members of The Jury Hearing The Case

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 26 — Damages amounting to $307.04 are sought by Domenic Silvestri, county seat tailor, he names Ralph R. Charles, of Willow Grove.

The case opened in civil court here, before Judge Calvin S. Boyer. The plaintiff, who was operating his car on Route 611, near County Line and Davis Grove roads, May 10, testified that the defendant approached the Easton highway from the Davis Grove road.

"I was going about 40 or 45 miles an hour. I saw the defendant's car about 50 or 60 feet away from me. He stopped and then started to cross. I turned my car to the left and we collided," said the local East State street business man.

In the plaintiff's car were his wife, his daughter, Sylvia, Joseph Arcade and John Arcade, all of whom were enroute to Philadelphia to attend a wedding.

Joseph Arcade, Reading railroad worker, who was seated in front with the plaintiff, testified he noticed the plaintiff applying the brakes. He corroborated the plaintiff's testimony concerning the actions of the defendant who was coming out of a side-road on to a through-highway.

Mr. Silvestri, who is 42, testified he has been driving a car since 1938. He testified that the trio of other occupants did not see the accident.

The jury contains Elsie Carroll, Lacey Park; Amelia M. Stever, Springtown; Rociopha Elwell, Bristol; Mamie Esser, Telford; Elmer C. McCue, Morrisville; Melvin S. Orr, Trumbauersville; Sallie Johnson, Ottaville, R. D. 1; Wilbur P. Stover, Leyland; Gertrude P. Kirk, Andalusia; Isaac T. Purcell, Upper Black Eddy; Edith N. Bean, Sellersville; and Cornelius Bustran, Bristol.

Counsel for the defendant, who has not presented his side of the case, informed the Court there is also a counter-claim involved, but did not indicate how much the amount of damages asked for are. Witnesses this morning include Trooper Alexander Bahlis, of the Doylestown sub-station, of the Penna. State Police, who investigated the crash, the defendant and his wife.

The defendant was coming out of Davis Grove road and making a left hand turn into Route 611, toward Doylestown, when he was struck. Mrs. Lucetia C. Charles, who was with her husband in the car, testified they had completed some of the turn from the side road into the highway when they were struck. The case was still on at 11:30 this morning.

Couple Wed Here Are En Route To Missouri

A couple wed here yesterday are enroute to Kansas City, Mo., to spend their honeymoon. The ceremony took place at three o'clock in St. Ann's R. C. Church, when the Rev. Peter Pinci united Miss Carmella Amelia Moffo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moffo, 203 Wood street, and Mr. Frank Boccanfuso, Princeton, N. J., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Boccanfuso.

Organist for the occasion was Miss Rita Clotti, Jefferson avenue. Making her way to the altar on the arm of her father, the bride was gown in white satin, the costume being cut on princess lines, with V-neckline set off with beaded design. Tapered sleeves were long, and the full skirt swept to a long train. Her scalloped veil was attached to a tiera of white sequins; white satin slippers were worn, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies in the center of which reposed lavender orchids.

The six members of the bridal party were guests at a dinner at Red Lion Inn, Andalusia, following the ceremony; and an evening reception took place in the station of Bristol Fire Co. No. 1.

As a travelling costume, Mrs. Boccanfuso wore a black suit, gray coat, black slippers and white gloves, and the orchids from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will make their home at Princeton. The bridegroom, who served with the U. S. Army in the European theatre of operations during World War II, presented his attendants with maracas tie pins. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a bracelet, and to the bridesmaids, pearl necklaces.

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Bald eagles over Bowman's Hill, and a wren that went to school were among bird stories of the Winter related at a meeting of the Neshaminy Valley Nature Club at the home of Edwin and Helen Traub, Churchville.

The flight of a pair of bald eagles, one of them definitely an adult with white head and tail, in the Delaware River Valley, below New Hope, was reported by Adolph Herzog, of this place, the club president.

He said that the presence of at least a pair of the eagles had been confirmed by other amateur ornithologists. Mr. Herzog also reported having observed hearing gulls and several species of hawks in that area on January 10.

Another member, Miss Eleanor Luff, of Richboro, who teaches at the Penn Valley School, told of a Carolina wren being in the school room, and providing a live subject for an indoor bird talk before it was released out a window.

Joseph Wildonger, 32-year-old Point Pleasant wounded war veteran, landed in the Bucks County Prison after a warrant had been served on him by Troopers Aulenbach and Bahlis.

He is charged with assault and battery alleged to have been committed upon his wife, Edith. Wildonger was committed by Justice of the Peace Bertram Kimble, Jr., of Point Pleasant, for a hearing. The

FOUR YOUNG PEOPLE HURT IN COLLISION

One Has Fracture of Jaw; One, Possible Skull Fracture

BUCKINGHAM, Jan. 26 — Three of four persons injured in a head-on collision of two automobiles near here on Saturday afternoon remain in Doylestown Emergency Hospital.

The injured are:

Miss Miriam Swartz, 24, of Pipersville; possible fracture of skull, lacerations of head, face and legs.

Miss Dora Myers, 21, Doylestown R. D. 2, lacerations of forehead.

William Rush, 25, Plumsteadville, lacerations of hands and face.

Wilson C. Roth, 22, Nazareth, fracture of jaw, lacerations of face.

According to records of Penna. State Police, Doylestown barracks, Rush was operating his machine north on Durham road, and Roth was travelling south near the intersection of Cold Spring Creamery road. It was snowing at the time, and the drivers state they did not see each other until it was too late to stop the cars.

Rush was discharged from Doylestown hospital yesterday; Miss Myers is expected to be discharged today; and Miss Swartz and Roth will remain in the hospital for a time.

Both cars were practically demolished by the impact.

William H. Price Dies in Quakertown

QUAKERTOWN, Jan. 26 — William H. Price, partner in Sheetz & Price Hardware Store here for 34 years, died yesterday. He was 75.

He was a member of the Philadelphia Consistory, Lulu Shrine, and the Quakertown P. & A. M. of which he was second oldest past-master.

He is survived by his wife and four daughters, Mrs. Harold Durner, Mrs. Calvin Beers, Mrs. Franklin K. Anstand and Mrs. Jacob Stoneback, of Quakertown. Interment will be in Union Cemetery at 2 p. m., Wednesday.

A meeting of the Cadet Boosters Association will be held at eight o'clock this evening in Bracken Post Home.

ARMY "EFFICIENCY"

With all the argument raging over whether President Truman has been wise in trusting the key authority of his administration to military figures, here's one to try on your friends. Who said the following?

"All the 'boondoggling' which was done—if there was any—in connection with relief appropriations could be completely blotted out by only three examples of the way in which the Army and Navy handle appropriations which we give them without any strings attached. They know how to waste money better than any other organization I have ever had anything to do with. They do an excellent job on the waste side."

"Unless this body (the U. S. Senate) and the House of Representatives exercise their prerogatives in connection with the purse strings of the Government, much of the money appropriated will be thrown away for no good purpose whatever."

Who said it? Why, none other than the man who recently has been so insistent on putting career soldiers in charge of all administrative affairs in the government—the man who wants one professional soldier, Secretary Marshall, to handle $17,000,000,000 under the Marshall Plan, and a host of others elsewhere in the government to disburse most of the rest of the proposed $40,000,000,000 Federal budget.

President Truman!

Of course, when he made the above remarks, he wasn't President, and no one, probably not even himself, ever expected him to be. He was speaking in his capacity as chairman of the Senate's Special Committee Investigating the National Defense Program.

The date of the above statement by President—then Senator—Truman was June 29, 1943.

The views he expressed were not the result of any sudden burst of bad temper on his part, but on the contrary the fruits of long observation of the traditional brass-hat wilfulness in wasting money and refusal to look realistically ahead.

Nearly two years earlier, on August 14, 1941, Senator Truman had spoken as follows to his colleagues in the Senate:

"I am sorry to say that I do not think the Army has done a good job on camp construction. There has been a lack of foresight and planning and a large amount of inefficiency."

"I had always assumed that the War Department had paid some attention to the bitter lessons with respect to camp construction which we learned during the last war."

"I was utterly astounded to find that although a postwar study had been made of camp construction problems encountered in the (First) World War, all the copies thereof had been lost by the War Department."

"If our plans for military campaigns are no more extensive and no better than those for construction, we are indeed in a deplorable situation."

Senator, now President, Truman didn't say the half of it. Pearl Harbor was less than four months off when he spoke—and never was a nation's high military command less prepared for eventualities than ours were on that occasion.

Yet this same Missourian has changed his tune today, and has asked for appropriations which would have been fantastic in those days, with war only weeks away—to be spent by precisely those he then criticized for lack of efficiency and foresight; by coincidence or otherwise, largely by those military leaders most closely identified with the Pearl Harbor Scandal!

Congress and the President alike would do well to turn back the pages, and be governed by the very excellent advice Senator Truman gave on that earlier occasion.

TWO BUCKS COUNTAINS ARE ASKING DIVORCES

Eugene Nemeth, Falls Twp., Names His Wife; Ann Huges Names Husband

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 26 — A Falls township husband and a Newtown woman are asking freedom from their mates. The two divorce libels and an appeal from a Fallsington Justice of the Peace have been filed in the Court of Common Pleas here.

Following a hearing on November 26, 1947, when Justice of the Peace John Melvin, of Fallsington, gave judgment for possession of the premises in favor of the plaintiff, Stephen Vargo, an appeal has been filed by the defendant, Richard Bye.

The plaintiff, who owns the premises in Wrightstown township, on May 28, 1946, rented them to the defendant on a monthly rental basis of $50. He notified the defendant October 29, 1947, that he wished to repossess them.

Repeated notices were served and on November 7, 1947, the defendant, Bye, was given a formal summons.

Witnesses for the plaintiff were Stephen Vargo, Margaret Vargo, and Stephen Vargo, Jr. Richard Bye, the defendant, was the lone witness for the tenant.

Eugene Nemeth, 37, Falls township, has begun an action in divorce against his wife, Ida Nemeth, 37, E. Maple avenue, Morrisville. They were married Nov. 3, 1929, in Trenton, N. J. In May, 1941, the libellant and respondent became residents of Morrisville.

The libellant was discharged from the Army in the fall of 1945 and the separation took place August 28, 1947.

Ann E. Huges, White Hall Hotel, Newtown, has named her husband, Garnet R. Huges, whose business address is 1011 Walnut street, Philadelphia, the respondent in a libel in divorce. They were married August 15, 1940, in Newtown, by Rev. Daniel Daly, rector of St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Newtown.

The respondent, who joined the Naval Reserve Corps in 1924, was discharged in 1945, and the libellant separated in 1945.

Two automobile fires

Bristol firemen were called out twice yesterday to extinguish automobile fires. The wiring on a car at the end of Swain street set fire to the vehicle at about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. Last evening at nine o'clock the rear seat of an automobile near Cedar and Market streets caught fire.

Ivy Williamson Is Speaker at Banquet

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 26 — "Competition—especially in sports—makes the United States different than other countries that have a regimented social structure," declared Ivy Williamson, football coach at Lafayette College and a former all-American end at Michigan, in the principal address Friday night at the testimonial All Sports Banquet in the Doylestown High school.

Two-hundred persons, including Alumni members—who sponsored the affair—103 students of various athletic teams, coaches, school board members and friends attended the very fine affair.

Coach Williamson said that in his opinion the banquet was unique, with football, baseball, girls' hockey and archery, rifle, basketball, track, cheerleaders, the band, tennis—senior and junior teams being honored.

"Doylestown High Alumni deserves congratulations," Coach Williamson declared. "I am a firm believer in competition in everything, but especially in sports, and I can speak with some authority when I say that just as long as our country has competitive sports competition, we will get along, both in peace and at war. Building restrictions on recreational facilities are contributing to the increase of juvenile delinquency and limiting the expansion of physical fitness under supervised conditions."

Was Ordained to Ministry While Father Served Church in Bristol

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 26 — A son of a former pastor of Bristol Presbyterian Church, who, aware that he had an inoperable form of cancer, had fellow clergymen at his side as he continued to preach the Word of God each week, died yesterday at Bridgeport, Conn. He was pastor of First Presbyterian Church, at Bridgeport.

Announcing last September 7th that he was suffering from an inoperable cancer, but that he would continue as minister as long as he was able, Dr. Allison had stated at that time: "My house is in order. I have had a long and blessed ministry. It is, of course, always a hardship to say farewell to such loved ones as I had, but it is better farther on, I have preached that glad hope, and I know my Saviour will not fail me."

neers in Detroit came two news items that will interest every man who is sick and tired of his present car.

One is that 5,999,999 other people would like to buy a new car in 1948 too. That will be news to some automobile dealers, who of late have found it necessary to call many names on their prospect list to effect delivery of one new car.

The other is that, according to a survey, 60 per cent of the American public favors a car that will sell at from $750 to $1,000. Probably 60 per cent of the populace would buy a new house for $500, too.

Those in the first category will come much closer to attaining their objective than those in the second. Manufacturers predict that the 1948 output of passenger cars and trucks will be 10 per cent above the 5,000,000 units produced in 1947. On the basis of slackening demand for new cars, that will, in all probability, take care of the customers.

As for the optimistic 60 per cent, they probably are voting more on the basis of desire than of expectation.

Unless somebody pulls a surprise, low-priced cars do not seem to be in the offing. Ford lowered prices from $20 to $97 on various models a year ago, but later was forced to join a general increase of $45 to more than $200 per car in August. Last week, Ford announced an increase of more than 5 per cent in prices of trucks.

In October, C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, said that 1948 prices might be as much as 5 per cent above current levels.

General Motors and Ford, both of which had set up divisions for the production of new lighter-weight, lower-priced passenger cars, abandoned the plans more than a year ago, although most of the leading car makers are still experimenting with methods of reducing weight and costs, although not prices.

The world has changed since 25 years ago, when a model T Ford roadster cost $260. After all, bacon was 20 cents a pound—15 years ago.

All those government officials charged with putting in the market say they did not have the advantage of official information, or didn't take it more seriously than do outsiders.

There is an oil shortage, it seems, because Americans are using too much. Score another defeat for those who attempted to repeal the law of supply and demand.

After February 15 the French people will be allowed seven ounces of meat a week, thus aggravating the non-motorized transportation problem.

If Taft ever points out that the sun rises in the East, Truman can be depended upon to maintain that it rises in the West if at all.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Aug. 5, 1897. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

William R. Vandegrift has been appointed Newportville's postmaster, vice H. M. Everett, removed.
The post office has been passing between these parties for many years regularly as the administration changes.

Charles Rue, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of the county, and a brother of Henry Rue, of Bristol, died at his home in Corn-wells, on Monday, aged 61 years. Mr.
Rue was postmaster of Mand, the name of the office at Cornwells, which was established through his efforts. He was re-appointed postmaster a few weeks ago.

The farm containing about 87 acres belonging to the Elizabeth T.
Knight estate on the Bristol turnpike at Torresdale, opposite All Saints Church, has been sold for the executors, William Taylor and John Wood, of Philadelphia, and Walter F. Leedom, of Bristol, to a Philadelphia syndicate for $47,160. This farm has been in the Knight family since the year 1806. The city is making an avenue through the property which will extend from Torresdale to Bustleton.

The next session of the VanRen-selaer Seminary at Burlington, N.
J., will open on the 20th of September next. This school is for the education of both sexes, embracing primary, intermediate and higher departments.

On Tuesday afternoon a trolley car was placed on the Bristol end of the Philadelphia and Bristol trolley road and will probably be running between here and the Nexus property just above Croydon this week. This leaves a distance of about three-quarters of a mile to be covered by stages.

Red Lion Inn is now ablaze with electric lights during the evenings, hundreds of incandescent lamps having been added recently. A quartette of colored musicians give concerts every afternoon and evening.

Harvey S. Rue received from the maker, Wilson Randall, last Saturday, a handsome undertaker's wagon.
It has all of the latest improvements.

At the regular meeting of the America Hose, Hook & Ladder Co., on Tuesday evening, Harry Pedrick, William Bell and Charles Vanartsdalen were appointed delegates to the fire department convention, to be held on the first Monday in September.

There was a special meeting of council last night. It was called to request the street committee to open the bids for macadamizing that portion of Cedar street, lying between Market and Walnut streets.

After wrangling over the matter a motion by Mr. Joyce that all bids be rejected and that the street committee advertise for proposals for macadamizing Cedar street from Walnut to Mill streets was carried.

About a dozen members of the Second Regiment from Philadelphia of the National Guards of Bristol on Burlington Island.

DR. ALEXANDER ALISON, JR.

Dr. A. Alison, Jr., 73, Dies in Connecticut

Mo., and John, 24, of New Haven; four daughters, Mrs. Robert Morrison of Bridgeport, Mrs. W. E. Witsil of Fairfield, Conn.; Mrs. Robert N.
Brockway, Jr., of Stratford, Conn., and Mrs. Harry W. Pedicord, of Carysville, Pa., and 12 grandchildren.

His first wife, the former Katharine Anna Smith, whom he married in 1859, died in 1944.

Dr. Alison was a Fundamentalist minister who served the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America for more than 48 years.
His longest and last pastorate, began in 1917, was with the First Presbyterian Church of Bridgeport.

His parents were born in Scotland. His father was the late Dr.
Alexander Alison and his mother, the late Mrs. Christine Horsburgh Alison.

Born in London, Ont., on Aug. 28, 1874, Dr. Alison was brought to this country two years later. After attending Eastern Academy, Philadelphia, he was graduated from Hamilton College in 1896 with an

A. B. degree and received an A. M. there in 1899. He studied at Princeton Theological Seminary from 1896 to 1899, and was ordained in the later year. Hamilton conferred an honorary D. D. on him in 1925.

Starting in the ministry at the Southwestern Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, in 1899, he became pastor of the West Presbyterian Church in Wilmington, Del. in 1905, and of the Hyde Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago, in 1912.

Dr. Alison, a past moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of New England, was a nominee for moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. in 1932 and a former trustee of the Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia.

On the Sunday before Christmas, he preached his 15th sermon after the announcement of his illness. All of his other pastoral duties had been turned over to an assistant.
To 1,000 members of his congregation he sent Christmas cards saying, in part: "The years have been busy and blessed. I do not know the future. But I know the God who does."

Dr. Alison had been a director of the International Summer Bible School Association and the Bridgeport Chamber of Commerce, and was active in civilian work during the first World War.

A Mason, Dr. Alison was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, the Clergy Club of New York and the Kiwanis and University Clubs of Bridgeport. He was a past president of the Contemporary Club of Bridgeport.

CROYDON 'VETS' GO DEEPER INTO CELLAR POSITION

Losing their ninth straight game, the Croydon Vets went deeper into the cellar of the Bristol Basketball League, Saturday night, on the high school floor. The Hibernians were the winning team with the final score being: Hibernians, 65; Vets, 35.

"Johnny" Rodgers, brilliant forward of the Hibbs, missed tying the individual scoring record of the league by two points. He registered 24 points but missed four chances at the finish to tie or beat the record of 26 held by Freddie Bringle, of Falls Alumni.

The Vets played fine ball for the first half of the game but in the second half were lost in an avalanche of field goals, most of them by Rodgers and Tommy Donnelly.

The victory enabled the Hibbs to remain in a triple deadlock with Fifth Ward and Prof's for second place.

ST. ANN'S MISSES TOO MANY SHOTS AND LOSES GAME

St. Ann's A. A. missed too many easy shots Saturday night on the high school court as it bowed to the Knights of Columbus quintet, 34-28, in a Bristol Basketball League contest.

Even if the Saints had shown better marksmanship from the foul line, they would have beaten the Knights. St. Ann's had 23 free shots and converted but 10.

The Caseys had the lead from the start but after the second half started, St. Ann's was never more than six points behind the ultimate winners.

Frigid Weather Still Grips Bucks County Area

With the mercury registering between six and eight degrees above zero residents are still experiencing frigid weather. The second heaviest snowfall of the winter ended yesterday morning after snow falling throughout Saturday. The snowfall was a trifle over three inches.

Coasting is being enjoyed by the youngsters and a group yesterday swept the snow off a patch in Silver Lake and enjoyed skating.

An appeal is made for residents to feed the birds and the rural areas game. The ground has been covered with snow for several weeks and the birds are having a difficult time in finding sufficient food. Those who have placed food outside for birds report that it is being quickly consumed.

Fuel oil users are still finding it necessary to conserve in the use of oil. Bristol police and Penna. State Police are receiving many calls where the fuel oil supply is either exhausted or nearly so. The applications are now being filed with Philadelphia instead of at Doylestown as was the system on Monday.

A change in the system was made late Saturday. The applications filed with the Bristol police are now being forwarded direct to Philadelphia and the supply is directed from the office of fuel oil co-ordinator there.

Some residents in Bristol have been without fuel oil since Tuesday.

Shores-Harkins Wedding Is Saturday Event Here

A couple wed at St. Mark's R. C. rectory on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock are spending a week in Florida.

The bride, Miss Mary E. Harkins, daughter of Mrs. John Brady, Race street, became the wife of Mr. Robert Shores, son of Mrs. Marian Shores, of Edgely. Mr. Peter Harkins, Race street, gave his sister in marriage, the Rev. Paul Baird officiating.

Attendants were Miss Mary Rafferty, Bath street, bridesmaid; and Mr. Joseph Genco, Jefferson avenue, best man.

A dinner followed at the home of the bride's mother, with an evening reception in Hibernian Hall, Corson street. The newlyweds will reside with the bridegroom's mother.

CROYDON 'VETS' GO DEEPER INTO CELLAR POSITION

Losing their ninth straight game, the Croydon Vets went deeper into the cellar of the Bristol Basketball League, Saturday night, on the high school floor. The Hibernians was the winning team with the final score being: Hibernians, 65; Vets, 35.

"Johnny" Rodgers, brilliant forward of the Hibs, missed tying the individual scoring record of the league by two points. He registered 24 points but missed four chances at the finish to tie or beat the record of 26 held by Freddie Bringle, of Falls Alumni.

The Vets played fine ball for the first half of the game but in the second half were lost in an avalanche of field goals, most of them by Rodgers and Tommy Donnelly.

The victory enabled the Hibs to remain in a triple deadlock with Fifth Ward and Prof's for second place.
